1. Limitation of liability

In no event shall ISTE, its officers or directors, agents, employees, independent contractors, subcontractors and affiliates (collectively "ISTE parties") be liable to the Exhibitor or any third parties for any loss, injury, death, damage, or other causes, special, punitive, exemplary, incidental or consequential damages, including attorneys' fees, or for any claims or actions based upon or relating to the Exhibitor's inability to use or inability to use the services outlined in this application and agreement or any claim by Exhibitor, even if any of the ISTE parties have been advised, are on notice and/or should have inferred such additional terms, conditions and rules or violation of any ordinance or statute by Exhibitor or any of its employees, contractors or agents. The Exhibitor assumes full responsibility and liability for the actions of its agents, employees and independent contractors, whether acting within or beyond the scope of their authority, and agrees to indemnify, hold harmless and defend ISTE and any of its employees, contractors or agents from any intentional or negligent act or omission or breach of these terms, conditions, rules or violations of any ordinance or statute by ISTE and/or any of its employees, contractors or agents. In the event of cancellation or change in format of the exposition to fully virtual (STE) and Exhibit Management’s sole responsibility to Exhibitor shall be to refund all of both fees paid by Exhibitor.

In all cases described above, ISTE and Exhibit Management may offer Exhibitor incentives to maintain dollars on file with ISTE for future applications to any new or future events and/or fully virtual and in-person events.

20. Exhibitor cancellation

Cancellation and relocation of the exposition or relocation of the exposition to a different location by the Exhibitor shall be at the discretion of ISTE and Exhibit Management, based upon the number of exhibitors, space constraints, space requirements, and all the factors that may arise to the relocation of the exposition or relocation of the exposition. To the extent possible, exhibitors shall be notified at least ninety days prior to relocation. In the event of cancellation or change in format of the exposition to fully virtual (STE) and Exhibit Management’s sole responsibility to Exhibitor shall be to refund all of both fees paid by Exhibitor.
